

THE KUIZAH FOUNDATION

TO PROTECT & CARE FOR PEOPLE GENERATION

INTRODUCTION

WE THE KUIZAH FOUNDATION

HERE'S WHAT WE DO

The communities across United States and the rest of the world who are from decades striving and struggling for their livelihood with poverty, hyperinflation, conflict, lack of healthcare resources and education. Kuizah foundation plays a crucial role in the wellbeing of mankind and uplifting of the unprivileged children's and low income seniors in economically-distressed cities around the world. Hence we define Kuizah as a "hope" which will work for the proper access to healthcare and other support.

ABOUT US

Kuizah foundation is involved in just such a process in some of the United States sites and across Africa in which its community facilitators are involved, which is informed by the principles of action research. We felt it was necessary to become more conscious and explicit about what the various views or interpretations of actions or events have been, particularly as they affect the quality of participation, and to individually and collectively discuss these and determine what these mean for a future course of action. The process thus far has yielded information and perspectives that could otherwise have remained hidden, and has directly influenced how Kuizah foundation has interacted with the communities concerned.

ABOUT THE KUIZAH FOUNDATION

FOUNDER

Founded by Dorian Kamsu, a Cameroon native and young entrepreneur based on Charlotte, North Carolina. Dorian founded the Kuizah foundation to honour his grandmother, Kamcha Martine, who raised more than 20 homeless children during her lifetime. Through example, she taught Dorian that we can share what we have with other people, even if our means are humble. In this spirit, the Kuizah Foundation will share resources and extend caring across international boundaries, inspiring hope in all who are touched by the work of the foundation. A naturalized U.S. Citizen based in Charlotte, North Carolina, Dorian is working to assemble a board and inspire his fellow citizens of the United States to give generously of their time and resources to help their brothers and sisters in Africa.

CO-FOUNDER

Adele TEKO a Cameroon native, is working on a bachelor's degree in Cardiovascular Technology. She is based in Charlotte North Carolina. Adele's mother died in 2007 from breast cancer. Being an orphan in Africa was a very big challenge. She noticed that hospitals in Africa do not have enough suppliers to help people, medical attention is very poor. Before she moved to US, Adele was working as supervisor in STMT Company, she volunteered in some orphanages. As a good Christian, (she was a choir member more than 10 years "Esperance voice choir") she visited hospitals, praying with patients every Saturday morning. Like her mother always says: "if you can help someone, do it with all your heart and God will bless you more and more". Adele love helping people who are in need.

OUR MISSION

Our mission is to provide hope to those who need it most around the world. Present challenges facing with the elderly aged people can be broad ranging and common across the age group, while other challenges are particular to certain categories of young children's. Issues of poverty, unemployment, low Income sustainability, marginalization and lack of participation opportunities are wide spread and yet also severely felt by people in developing countries. Our work is powered by American volunteers of all ages who care passionately about advancing our mission and are looking for opportunities to serve abroad as ambassadors of hope. Our ultimate goal is to build global bridges between individuals and communities and offer opportunities for meaningful intercultural and intergenerational engagement.

VISION

OURS IS AN ERA THAT CALLS FOR WIN-WIN COOPERATION

Against the backdrop of globalization, countries are inter-dependent like never before with their interests deeply entwined. There are important opportunities such as the prevailing trend of peace and development, rapid advances in science and technology and vibrant regional cooperation. There are also challenges posed by terrorism, climate change, and energy and resource security. No single country can monopolize the benefits of opportunities, nor stay immune to challenges. The only viable choice is to share opportunities and meet challenges together in the spirit of solidarity and through win-win cooperation.

OURS IS AN ERA THAT CALLS FOR INCLUSIVE CO-EXISTENCE

Different political systems and development paths exist in parallel. Many ethnic groups and civilizations draw on each other's strength. Various political thoughts and social trends interact with and influence each other. All this form a picture of diversity. However, hegemonies and power politics manifest themselves from time to time. Lack of justice, equality and fairness is still prevalent in international relations, posing potential threats to world peace and security. "It is only natural that things cannot be all the same." Different countries and civilizations need to uphold the spirit of inclusiveness, abandon arrogance and prejudice, and respect other countries' choice of development path, model and concept. Only in this way can they live in harmony and jointly foster a sound environment of stability and development.

OURS IS AN ERA THAT CALLS FOR OPENNESS AND SHARING

The deep impact of the international financial crisis continues to unfold. Protectionism and isolationism in various forms have resurfaced. Multilateral trade negotiations encountered continuous setbacks.

World economic recovery is an uphill journey. Openness leads to progress while isolation backwardness. Reality calls on all parties to carry forward the spirit of openness when pursuing development, build a new system of an open economy, and accelerate regional cooperation and connectivity. This will help countries realize integration through openness and development through integration, and achieve common progress and prosperity.

In such situation our vision is to join hands across boundaries and work to create a world in which people from all cultures share resources and support one another in love.

CORE VALUE

Hope is the essence of life. Many of us could not even live a life of peace without having hope deep inside the heart. We strongly believe hope can transformer the life's of mankind to prosperity.

We believe that all people, regardless of age, race, ethnicity, income level, or nation of origin, should have access to the hope offered through access through education and healthcare.

We believe that the global epidemic of isolation and loneliness is broken through interaction with other people and cultures, by engaging the senses through communal experiences and through service of those in need.

We believe in working toward the shared goal of inspiring, teaching and healing.

We believe that global epidemics like poverty, sickness and lack of education can be solved when people work together across cultures.

The Kuizah Foundation will offer several programs to help provide underprivileged people in economically-challenged towns and villages around the world with hope.

PROJECTS INVOLVED BY KUIZAH FOUNDATION

SCHOOL SUPPLIES

Kuizah foundation believes “More than 30 million children are growing up in poverty. In one low-income community, there was only one book for every 300 children.”

Without the correct school supplies, children can have a hard time staying up on their lessons and keeping pace with the rest of the class. Therefore spending money on quality supplies is vital to their success. Items like binders, folders and notebooks are meant to keep students organized and help keep a solid record of important topics.

Supplies like pens, pencils, books, back bags, erasers and even calculators are items that will be used often and shouldn't be undervalued. Having a quality medium like a pen will allow the student to focus on what the teacher is talking about as opposed to worrying about if they're pen is working properly or has already run out of ink.

SANITARY CARE

Safe drinking water is a global concern. We Kuizah foundation are working tirelessly to help communities in developing nations establish water sources. Kuizah foundation helps to purify water for parasites and dangerous waterborne illnesses. Along with this is an effort to provide sanitation facilities for villages. This involves digging latrines, building toilets or designating places to defecate rather than random use of land for this purpose. Kuizah foundation help families learn about proper sanitation. The families not only need safe water for drinking, cooking and staying healthy, they need instruction and help in sanitation. There are many organizations that participate in the WASH program, the collective term for Water, Sanitation and Hygiene.

Mission Education is a national level programme of Kuizah Foundation, which is committed to providing basic education and healthcare to underprivileged children and orphans. Kuizah Foundation believes that whether you are addressing healthcare, poverty, population control, unemployment or human rights, there's no better place to start than in the corridors of education.

Education is both the means as well as the end to a better life; means, because it empowers an individual to earn his/her livelihood and the end because it increases one's awareness on a range of issues – from healthcare to appropriate social behaviour to understanding one's rights, and in the process evolve as a better citizen.

Writing to potential donors and seeking out companies and businesses that would be interested in upholding the cause can support a Kuizah foundation to a great extent.

If possible, you can also help organize, or host a fundraising event. The event might even be something as simple as a dinner where the Kuizah foundation publicizes its work. More elaborate events include organizing some sports competition or seeking the participation of a known celebrity face to become the mascot.
